Kelly Barbee

Kelly Barbee is from Concord, North Carolina. He is married to his wife, Cherilyn and has a daughter, Emily and a son, Ryan. He is currently a Regional Sales Manager for ST Genetics. His previous industry background includes owning his own farm where he previously owned and housed show cattle for many years. Kelly was an Agriculture educator for ten years at Piedmont High School. He has had the privilege of owning or selling over 40 All American nominations in multiple breeds including two World Dairy Expo Grand Champions. He has had the opportunity to judge many county, state, and National shows including World Dairy Expo, Royal Winter Fair Jersey futurity, and the National Holstein Show in Mexico. He also enjoys seeing youth motivated to sharpen their skills and be motivated to be skilled showmen and women and focus on what are ideal type traits for their respective breeds.
