

Poultry Judge

Ben Rush

Ben Rush is a former member of Hamblen County 4-H and Morristown East High FFA. Ben has participated in various poultry shows during his time in 4-H at both the local and national level. While in Hamblen County 4-H, Ben competed in the poultry project at Tennessee 4-H Roundup events and represented the state as a delegate at National 4-H Congress in Atlanta. Additionally, Ben has assisted the late Dr. Terry Disney with his nationally recognized poultry animals. Ben holds an Associate of Science Degree in General Studies from Walters State Community College, Bachelor of Arts Degree in Biology from Carson-Newman University, and a Master of Arts in Teaching Degree from Carson-Newman University. Ben and his family continue to raise different varieties of chickens in addition to registered Shorthorn cattle.